Presented by JazzWalk Music Services

(831) 688-6217, (831) 239-8031; jazzwalk@sbcglobal.net

Based in Santa Cruz, California, The Daniel Green Jazz Trio is an extremely versatile and dynamic group featuring guitarists Ron Clegg, Brian Fitzgerald, and Daniel Green on acoustic string bass. This non-traditional configuration offers an exceptional and unique sound, exploring personal and distinctive interpretations of a wide variety of jazz pieces from a wide range of time periods. The unique instrumentation format of the trio allows for subtle yet powerful arrangements, to develop into lively conversational improvisations with a quiet balanced sound derived from the distinctive acoustic tone of the instruments.

Bassist Daniel Green leads this imaginative and noteworthy jazz trio. Originally from Portola Valley, California, Daniel is a long time Santa Cruz resident. With traditional jazz as his first love, he also draws from a broad musical background including musical influences such as big band swing, orchestral musicals, Celtic, bluegrass, rock, and blues. An accomplished musician, Daniel has toured and performed extensively as both leader and sideman for over thirty years throughout the Monterey Bay and Northern California region. He performs throughout the Bay Area and can be heard on numerous recording projects.
